

Europe Coughed Up Zionism

How centuries of European hatred, guilt, and colonial tricks were vomited out onto Palestine.

Felix Abt

Sun 31 Aug 2025

Europe's Cough

Europe coughed up Zionism
like its kings coughed up hemophilia, like its castles coughed up lice.

Not liberation.

Not salvation.

Just Europe spitting centuries of hate into somebody else's backyard.

A Thousand Years of Horror

For a thousand years—
ghettos, burnings, shaved heads,
markets filled with screams.
And when the Holocaust came—Europe's masterpiece of mass murder—
it drowned in guilt.
But it didn't hand over Berlin.
Or Vienna.
Or London.

No. Europe did what it always does:
deport the problem.

Deportation is Europe's love language.
Starving peasants? Ship them to colonies.
Prisoners? Australia.
Jews? Palestine.

Same trick.
Every time.
Europe coughs up its garbage
and makes someone else choke.

And look who's coughing—
incestuous kings,
flea-ridden nobles,
peasants who bathed once a year.
Cities stinking of plague and piss.

The Birth of Zionism

Out of that swamp of syphilis and scabies
came Zionism—
not as freedom,
but as phlegm,
spat into the Middle East.

The audacity is breathtaking.
Europe butchered Jews for centuries.
Germany perfected it.

And then handed the ashes to Palestine:
Here. You deal with it!

The Crusades.
The colonies.
The slave ships.
The gulags.
The camps.
Apartheid.

Zionism is just another tumor
on Europe's diseased body.

Safety? Or whose Survival?

And when they say it's about "safety"?
Remember—
Europe doesn't make safety.
Europe makes survival.
Its survival.
At everyone else's expense.

This is the continent
that couldn't keep its kings free of cousins,
its peasants free of fleas,
or its hands free of genocide.
And now it's vomiting Zionism
all over Palestine.

Let that sink in for a moment.

The Irony of Ignorance

Many white Europeans—Germans in particular—harbor a deep-seated contempt for Muslim and Christian Palestinians, for Arabs, for Muslims. They sneer with the same unthinking ignorance as their forefathers, oblivious to a monumental historical irony: while medieval Europe languished in the feudal mud, scarcely scratching out survival, the Arab-Islamic world was ablaze with its Golden Age. It was this very civilization that lit the torch which would later ignite the European Renaissance.

Consider the legacy they so readily dismiss:

- The Language of Logic: They gave us algebra, algorithms, and the Arabic numerals—including the revolutionary concept of zero—that form the bedrock of all modern mathematics and science.
- The Foundations of Medicine: They pioneered the hospital system, produced comprehensive medical encyclopedias, and authored surgical texts that remained standard in Europe for centuries.
- Innovation and Technology: Groundbreaking advances in optics, astronomy, windmills, sophisticated water clocks, and even early prototypes of robotics emerged from the Islamic world.
- The Keepers of Knowledge: Baghdad's House of Wisdom wasn't just a library; it was a beacon where the wisdom of Greeks, Persians, and Indians was preserved, expanded upon, and later handed back to a Europe that had forgotten it.

So, in short: while Europe slept through its Dark Ages, the Islamic world was tirelessly awakening science, architecture, medicine and philosophy. The Europeans' scorn is not just prejudice; it is historical illiteracy.

From Greater Germany to Greater Israel

And now—today—Germany stands in lockstep with Greater Israel, denying Palestinians even a fragment of a state.

Why didn't Germany carve off part of itself?

Why not call Hamburg New Jerusalem?

That would have been fair. After all—most of the Jews were European, many German, or descended from them.

And as Professor Roy Casagrande points out:

the majority of Palestinians are of Jewish descent—

more ethnically Jewish than many of the European and American Jews who founded Israel.

So each time a Palestinian is murdered by an Israeli,
a person who is more Jewish
is killed by a person who is less Jewish.

Europe's Final Irony

And that is Europe's final irony.
It burned its Jews for centuries,
perfected genocide with German precision and thoroughness,
and then—instead of atoning on its own soil—
Germany exported its crime,
its guilt,
its disease,
onto Palestine.

So let's be clear:
Zionism isn't Jewish salvation.
It's European absolution.
A colonial cough disguised as liberation.

Every settlement is Germany's denial.
Every wall is Germany's cowardice.
Every massacre is Germany's unfinished crime.

And every time a Palestinian is shot, bombed, buried or starved to death, it is not only Palestine that bleeds.
It is proof, etched in blood,
that Germany's sickness never cured itself.
It only found a new body to infect.

ARTICLE TAGS:

Europe Germany Greater Israel Israel Palestine Analysis